Top Reasons to Upgrade to Zebra's Android Devices

1. Speed Up Labor Onboarding and Training

Get new and part-time employees up to speed fast with minimal training. Give your frontline workers an intuitive user experience and apps that feel familiar for smartphone users.

2. Easy Terminal Emulation Continuation

Quickly transfer your configurations, retain keyboard entry or upgrade to a more efficient touchscreen at your pace. Transitioning from legacy systems to Zebra can be seamless.

3. Keep IT costs down

Easily deploy, monitor, manage and support fleets remotely for maximum visibility, uptime and efficiency across your warehouse. You'll have Zebra's trusted support to bolster your IT team.

4. Gain Flexibility and Simplicity

Plug and play with existing systems allows you to quickly pivot operations with minimum effort, while providing a friendlier user interface on one convenient platform.

5. Tighten Up Security

Guard data with Android Enterprise and Mobility Extensions from Zebra with additional features that improve security and management.

6. Gain More Value

Get a robust suite of applications and tools made to maximize productivity and efficiency with Android devices: Zebra's Mobility DNA. It even makes integrating apps and centralized management easier.

7. Product Lifetime Support

Protect your investment with Zebra devices, as you extend the usable life of your existing systems and future-proof your mobility strategy. Features like LifeGuard can support security for up to 10 years.

8. The Right Device for Every Job

Choose from the broadest mobility portfolio for warehousing, allowing you to find the right device for the right task, and minimize the number of vendors your team spends time supporting.

9. Class-Leading Product Features

From greater processing power and battery life to larger touchscreen displays, employees can capture images and scan from a distance faster and easier—while you keep eyes on your fleet with device tracking.

10. Purpose-Built to Increase Workers' Productivity

Get field-tested devices that increase productivity across your operations. Zebra solutions are designed around making our devices easy to manage, use, and guide employees to improve communication and make better decisions.
